PLAYERNAME:

QUOTE

Let your possessions go, in every sense of that word. Don't hang on to them but use them. Then value will begin to have meaning.

TRAITS

Passionate, courageous, tenacious, unsettled when not in motion, anxious, always questing.

OBITUARY

A legend and hero to all common folk, who led a life protecting those who could not fend for themselves, was finally defeated. A master of the sword and close quarters combat, Bridger sought out and studied with Vorda Von (Si-Tai-Gong 5th Generation), a study which involved constant mindful travel and regular genetic manipulation. Always possessed an incisive mind that was honed by years of precise application of craft.
